1915 SALE DATES 1915

JANUARY
20—John Hockersmith

FEBRUARY
2—Edward Hoyer
2—John D. Hann
5—Geo. Hilterbrick
6—Cyrl Weaver & Bros.
9—Elmer Bentz
10—John Shafer
10—Samuel Dubbs
11—Clara Klunk
11—C. F. Myers
11—George Cramer
11—John Stahl, agent
11—W. E. Robert
12—Jacob Bollinger
12—E. C. Weiter Admn.
13—Chas. Fitzgerald
14—A. S. Wivell & W. E. Koons
15—Roy W. Bollinger
15—J. B. Wiseman
16—H. Fink
16—C. H. Waller
19—John C. Shealer
19—Albert Rudisill
19—Louis Sowers
20—L. D. Bair
20—John Bliem
20—Henry Riddel
21—Mrs. M. Weikert
21—Eli Garretson
22—Lewis Mizell
23—Joseph Coel
23—C. E. Anders
23—Earl Caine
24—Reuben Fuoed
24—Jacob Tyhe
24—W. D. Flemming
24—Max Cease
24—Lewis Bowling
25—Charles Shultz Exr.
25—Jacob Wolf
25—John Weikert
26—J. H. Butters
26—Charles D. Trostle
26—F. C. Riley
26—Mrs. Miriam Hartman
26—William Reighner
26—A. Kerr Lott
26—R. D. Weaver
26—Clinton Cashman
26—L. E. Crouse
26—J. D. Spengler
26—J. H. Butters
27—Wm. Hilterbrick
27—J. A. Bucher
27—Mrs. Mahala Watson
27—L. L. Neely

MARCH
1—Robert Bell
1—H. J. & S. F. Smith
1—Reuben Swarts
1—Mrs. George Lina
1—John Butters
1—Mrs. Elsie Fail
2—Simon Eline
2—Jacob Musselman
3—O. M. Stine
3—John Miller
3—W. S. Hull
3—John Bitner
4—Mrs. Jacob Hoff
4—D. F. Benner
4—W. F. Sebright Est.
4—H. H. Cramer
4—Charles M. Little
4—Ambrose Bleak
4—William Black
4—Robert Stanley
4—Mr. Spangler
4—McClellan Brothers
4—Noah Dickinson
4—D. D. and F. F. Forrest
4—Samuel Swartz
4—Albert Hollinger
4—Jacob Fisher
4—Isaac Wilt
4—Samuel Zepp
5—C. C. Bender
5—Edward Brown
5—Levi Fink
5—Willis Myers
5—Homer Martin
5—Jacob Hoffman
5—J. C. Miller
5—Joseph Spangler
5—McClellan & Stugley
5—John Smith
5—Hamon Staley
10—A. L. Hoffman
10—W. W. Neely
10—Reuben Sheely
10—Levi Fink
10—Charles Mundorff
10—John H. Lange
10—Lionel Shank
11—Daniel Shultz
11—Jacob Buckman
11—Christian Pitzantzer
11—F. E. Shrawdegh
11—J. Carns Smith
11—Henry A. Mitchell
11—S. S. Freezer
11—Jesse Boyd
11—J. W. Seiffert
11—Clayton Pfoutz
11—Elias Wolfert
11—Merrell Gilly
11—Elmer Smith
11—J. C. Bell
11—Jacob Dunkorf
11—Eli Wolfert
11—C. E. Flora
11—Harry Smith
11—Frank Gilbert
11—H. B. Slonaker
11—Estate of J. Mizren
11—Claude J. Hamme
11—C. A. Hershey
11—Fremont Wolfert
11—Thomas Shealer
11—Wilson G. Little
11—Robert Gantz Mingo
11—John Richman
11—John Baker
11—Leland Hospelhorn
11—Ketterman Brothers
11—O. C. Weiter
11—F. A. Ginter
11—O. D. Hehl
11—John Miller
11—Emanuel Fidler
11—H. E. Snyder
11—Mrs. Sarah Myers
11—Simon Harbaugh
11—J. H. Gitch
11—J. Brown
11—Henry Deardorff
11—William H. Taylor
11—Charles R. Hartman
11—Mrs. John Ketterman
11—H. J. Brown
11—Estate of A. Butters
11—Willis Eppleman
11—C. S. Grieve's Sons
11—D. C. Shanabrook
11—Jacob Bream
11—John D. Bream
11—C. C. Brown
11—John S. Bowling
11—D. M. Hoffman
11—Otat Gitner
11—Joseph Baldwin
11—John T. Spoonaller
11—Oscar Reynolds
11—Willie Waggle
11—L. A. Yaney
11—John Hatfield
11—Samuel Scott

JANUARY
Mt. Pleasant
FEBRUARY
Mt. Joy
Conewago Road
New Baxter
Straban
Mt. Joy
Mt. Pleasant
Highland
Butler
Mt. Pleasant
Oxford
Butler
Franklin
Tyrone
Hamilton
Mt. Pleasant
Mt. Pleasant
Straban
Cumberland
Mt. Pleasant
Fairfield
Franklin
Mt. Pleasant
Tyrone
Marsh
Menallen
Menallen
Mt. Pleasant
Butler
Conewago
Franklin
Mt. Joy
Cumberland
Franklin
Butler
Cumberland
Oxford
Reading
Liberty
Near New Oxford
Reading
Butler
Huntington
Fairfield
Hamilton
MARCH
Straban
Oxford
Mt. Joy
Cumberland
Straban
Huntington
Near Hampton
Hamiltonban
Butler
Butler
Franklin
Menallen
Huntington
Mt. Joy
Reading
Reading
Hamiltonban
Mt. Joy
Franklin
Butler
Liberty
Mt. Pleasant
Mt. Joy
Huntington
Berwick
Huntington
Mt. Joy
Cumberland
Straban
Mt. Pleasant
Mt. Pleasant
Mt. Pleasant

RENEW MUMPS QUARANTINES

Additional Three Weeks Added in Many Town Rooms. Dreary Prospect for Families in which there are Many Children.

A full six weeks' quarantine has been the unhappy lot of a number of Gettysburg families at the hands of the reinvoked outbreaks of mumps among their children. No less than twelve homes have been compelled to undergo a renewal of the restrictions just when they expected to be released.

The original quarantine in every instance in every one days from the time of the case being reported. In these twelve homes, some other member of the family developed the most intolerable symptoms on the twelfth or twenty first day, just after the original patient had fully recovered. A new report was made and a renewal of the quarantine imposed. In one of these cases, at least, the order for lifting the quarantine had already been made and the Health Officer had his book filter all ready to take down the unwelcome yellow signs.

Not only the homes have suffered on this account but the local schools report serious interference with their work from the same cause. Those who are entirely recovered must now remain away from school until the other members of the family are released. In a family of eight or ten children it is entirely possible that a quarantine for four or six months might continue.

Not only are the public, parochial and private schools affected by this continuation of the quarantine, but Sunday Schools, churches, moving picture houses and all other places where large gatherings take places have been equally inconvenienced and there is a general feeling of hope that the disease will soon spend itself.

TRIES SUICIDE

William Ketterman, employed by the Hanover Heating Company as a fireman, attempted to commit suicide Saturday night at the home of his mother by cutting his throat and both of his wrists with a knife. Prompt medical assistance Ketterman had become despondent and was under the influence of liquor when he tried to put an end to his life.

Ketterman was found by his mother in his room in a pool of blood. She summoned two physicians, who stopped the flow after Ketterman had suffered a loss of perhaps a quart, which left him in a seriously weakened condition. The attending physicians expect him to recover in a short time. When questioned as to why he tried to end his life Ketterman answered emphatically that it was beore and that he was through with it forever.

SURPRISED PARTY

Dorsey Marts Given Surprise on his Birthday.

A very enjoyable surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Marts on Thursday evening in celebration of Mr Marts's birthday. The following were present, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Mortis, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Freed, Mr. and Mrs. Wash. Bauscher, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Eshbach, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Orner, Mrs. Mc-Clain Miller, Mr. Robert Shull, Miss Frank Hartman, Mrs. Ethel Chronister, Misses Helen McCaughlin, Nevada McLaughlin, Blanche Sheely, Esther Cluck, Alda Freed, Ruth Andrew, Helen Shull, Katherine Orner, Cora Martin, Mary Freed, Marian Chronister, Hilda Hartman, Mary Hartman, Esther Blettinger, Ruth Hartman, Grace Sanno, Verna Orner, Nellie Shull, Mary Miller, Bertha Keller, Miriam Miller, Helen Martin, Messrs. Ivan Orner, Claire Robert, Howard Cook, Carl Martin, Clyde Andrew, Dale Blettinger, James Orner, Donald Keller, Ira Lawver.

FIGHT LICENSE

Methodists Object to Bar so Near Church.

Perhaps the most interesting remonstrance filed in Franklin County against a liquor license application is the one of the Methodist Episcopal church at Chambersburg, which would have the court refuse the license to Hotel John, which is now within less than 60 feet of the church building, since the addition to the church has been made. The petitioners urge that a bar should not be permitted that close to a house of worship, declaring that it would be "deleterious, dangerous and destructive to the moral welfare of the youth of the church and community."

FREDERICK'S WAR CLAIM

Congress May Again Postpone Action until a Later Session.

Tied up in Congress with all other private appropriation bills is the Frederick $200,000 War Claim. Whether or not consideration of this measure and so that bills bill, introduced by Congressman David J. Lewis, will come up for final passage or defeat at this session of Congress, remains to be seen. However, the manner in which Congress is fighting over the bills of great national importance would indicate that the delaying action on the part of some Frederick people will be justified. If not, as many citizens, should the bill come up for its final passage, it is difficult to tell what effect it may have on the Federal States treasury would have upon it.

MAY HAVE THIEF

Man Arrested in Carlisle may be Fellow Who Stole Mileage from Here.

With the arrest not commitment to jail in Carlisle on a charge of treason, of John Conway, Pittsburg, officers believe that they have one of the men who on Thursday night broke into the Philadelphia & Reading station in Carlisle, and took nine mileage books, and a number of railroad other stations including Gettysburg and Biglerville.

The Carlisle arrest may result in the discovery of Dorsey's alleged accomplice, and also the return of the nine mileage books robberies throughout this section in the last few months.

Dorsey made the claim that he is a pipe fitter in search of employment. He is about 5 feet 10 inches in stature, one David Gorley, alias George Whorley, has not been located.

ON HOSPITAL STAFF

Dr. G. Elmer Spotz is Appointed at Harrisburg.

Dr. G. Elmer Spotz, formerly of Hampton, and Dr. S. Ira Mac Dowell were elected additional members of the staff of physicians and surgeons of the York hospital and dispensary at a meeting of the board of directors of the institution held at the hospital Saturday afternoon. The election of Drs. Spotz and Mac Dowell as members of the medical and surgical staff is to take effect on the first of February, president of the board, presided at the meeting.

DELEGATES CHOSEN

Local D. A. R. Chapter to be Represented at Washington.

At the regular monthly meeting of Saturday the Gettysburg Chapter D. A. R. elected Mrs. Harry Hamilton Hill, of its delegate, and Mrs. Henry Anstadt, of Washington, the alternate, to the Continental Congress to be held at Washington the latter part of April. The meeting will be held on Washington's Birthday in the Southern Building. Mrs. Hamilton Hill and Mrs. Kirby will represent the chapter. The members now number forty-four.

STORE SOLD

North Washington Street Place Business Changes Hands.

Robert Black Diehl has sold his store business in the Tunghinbaugh building at the corner of Washington and to Augustus Orner, of Arendtsville, who took possession Monday. Mr. Orner will move into the house on East Middle street now occupied by Mr. Diehl, and Mr. Robert Shull, the present occupant of the Tunghinbaugh property recently purchased by Mr. Orner from Reth when he moved into his new residence on Broadway.

TO MAKE CHANGE

Firemen's Show will not Conflict with Dance on Saturday.

On account of the school directors' convention and the appearance here of Taber, the magician, on Thursday evening, February 15, the managers having in charge arrangements for the firemen's benefit show, "Snap" have decided to change their date. The new date has not yet been determined upon but will be announced in a week later than originally announced.

GOES TO PENITENTIARY

Sheriff and Detroit Attorney Take Prisoner to Moundsville.

Jesse Marks was taken to Philadelphia on Monday to begin serving his sentence in the two forgery cases to which he pleaded guilty. Sheriff Thompson had charge of the prisoner. He was accompanied by District Attorney White. Marks was sentenced to not less than two nor more than three years in each of the two cases, the sentences to run concurrent.

A CURIOUS ORDEAL

Plight of a Man Who Almost Felt Death Touch Him.

IN A VAT OF BOILING WATER.

His Vivid Story of His Sensations as He Tumbled Helpless on His Back on a Side of Raw Silk in the Seething Liquid and His Terrific Rescue.

A man who is now at the head of one of the largest establishments for dyeing silks in his country tells a story of a thrilling and terrifying adventure that he once had in the employ of the only the superintendent of the "boiling room."

"Sink," he says in telling the story, "we have the silk in the vats. We boil it once it acted up like. Here you ever have in a vessel with the hot water. Then we add it's in a hot, steaming place, with great steaming vats that are made in a large three years, has been hitched, holes, all stuffy and close, and there are cutting tracks and is dumped into the vats. The vats may be stirred about by a good deal before it gets soaked through and through.

"Just before the iron bars are dug out of the vats they are lifted by a pulley and are hung over the steaming vats. I was just a boy then, and I began to look around for the stirring fork. I couldn't find it in the dark, steaming place, so I went to myself. 'He loses everything.'

"I was the only one there, and I was not much when my foot went off the side of the vat. I fell into the steaming vat and I was seized with the full convulsions of death.

"I had time to think over just how everything was done. I was perfectly clear-headed and to wonder how much of me would be cooked before I was entirely from dinner. Then I felt myself bend up in a curve with the back of my head to the side.

"By this day I can see the very look of the old sneaky roof as I lay on the bottom of the vat. I felt the sides of it on all sides. It was horribly hot there. The steam seemed to scald me to the bone, and I felt that I must move.

"I thought I could manage to get loose as I could. When no one answered I suddenly felt that I was in a vat of hot water. I began slowly to rot myself up. Nearly every bone in my body there was one arm. It was just enough to make me scream, but I did not make a motion stop. Then I knew it wouldn't do me a move. I was on my back, about on the middle of the bale, and valued at $5,000. I was afraid that if I began to rotting that the silk was slowly shrinking into the vat.

"You could hardly notice the motion. At first I could see the white of the ends of my eyes and see the edge of vat No. 4. A little later I could see nothing but the vat. I was losing my use of vision. I couldn't move my head, but I could see the roof over, and if I remained still I would be able to see by inch from the steaming water below.

"It was awful to think that I became a little hysterical. It's funny what tricks the mind plays.

"This is dying with a vengeance,' I thought. 'I'm being boiled to death.' Then I began to think of my family.

"It was a growing horror. Steam had begun to percolate through the silk, and I felt it on my face and hands. The ring clouds that rose from the surface of the vat blinded me. I felt as if I were dying. By and by, however, some one answered my shouts. The door opened, and the man saw a rushing across the room.

"Get a pole!' shouted one.

"I knew that would be fatal; the slightest jam with a pole would rot and take the steaming away.

"'Get a rope!' I said. 'don't touch me or it will be all over!' One of you turn the steam off and get a rope.' I was afraid to go down the rubber. The pipe that brought the steam to the vat was rotten. It was old. Do it quick!'

"I could hear a strong, clang of the steam being cut off from the vat. I was afraid that the rope would break in the vat that breathed round the edges, and I knew that the water was boiling. The heat no hour to empty No. 4. Its contents would be ruined. I felt Mr. Mill. Mill Jane Sims. Then they got a rope and sat on the edge of the vat and began to rap me with great staring eyes.

"As the vat was on the tilt end I was now on one side, now on the other. Each a length of rope. Both the men grunted and sat up very straight. Suddenly one of them fell back.

"'What's the matter?' I cried.

"'I felt the rope and it's cut.'

"I felt the rope and it's cut. Very well; I'll be there bright and early. Miss Rowe—Be there early anyway. I won't ask the other Gilbo—Bottom Trousers.

Very Likely.

It's a sad thing to witness goodby actress parting from her husband, but we suppose the gallantan gets used to it.—Florida Time-Union.

My hopes are not always realized, yet I always hope.—Ovid.

PUBLIC SALE

OF 85 HEAD OF STOCK

ON TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1918, the undersigned will sell at public sale on the Edward Miller farm, one mile north of Fairfield, Adams County, and only one half mile from Vicinity Mills station on the W. M. R. R. the following:

10 HEAD OF HORSES

No. 1 bay mare, 7 years old, good barnbear leader and saddle mare, in foal, weight 1500 pounds; No. 2 bay mare seven years old, good off-side worker and driver, weight 1400 pounds; quiet for any one to drive, in foal, weight 1400 pounds; No. 3, bay mare 13 years old, good leader and an excellent brood mare, in foal, sorrel mare, weight 1400 pounds; No. 5, bay mare 13 years old, good leader and excellent brood mare, in foal, sorrel mare, weight 1400 pounds; No. 6, bay mare two Pair, weight 1600 pounds, These three mares are in foal to Edward Miller's registered percheron, horse; what more could you desire for a team.

"Sink," he says in telling the story, "we have the silk in the vats. We boil it once it acted up like. Here you ever have in a vessel with the hot water. Then we add it's in a hot, steaming place, with great steaming vats that are made in a large three years, has been hitched, holes, all stuffy and close, and there are cutting tracks and is dumped into the vats. The vats may be stirred about by a good deal before it gets soaked through and through.

"Just before the iron bars are dug out of the vats they are lifted by a pulley and are hung over the steaming vats. I was just a boy then, and I began to look around for the stirring fork. I couldn't find it in the dark, steaming place, so I went to myself. 'He loses everything.'

"I was the only one there, and I was not much when my foot went off the side of the vat. I fell into the steaming vat and I was seized with the full convulsions of death.

"I had time to think over just how everything was done. I was perfectly clear-headed and to wonder how much of me would be cooked before I was entirely from dinner. Then I felt myself bend up in a curve with the back of my head to the side.

"By this day I can see the very look of the old sneaky roof as I lay on the bottom of the vat. I felt the sides of it on all sides. It was horribly hot there. The steam seemed to scald me to the bone, and I felt that I must move.

"I thought I could manage to get loose as I could. When no one answered I suddenly felt that I was in a vat of hot water. I began slowly to rot myself up. Nearly every bone in my body there was one arm. It was just enough to make me scream, but I did not make a motion stop. Then I knew it wouldn't do me a move. I was on my back, about on the middle of the bale, and valued at $5,000. I was afraid that if I began to rotting that the silk was slowly shrinking into the vat.

"You could hardly notice the motion. At first I could see the white of the ends of my eyes and see the edge of vat No. 4. A little later I could see nothing but the vat. I was losing my use of vision. I couldn't move my head, but I could see the roof over, and if I remained still I would be able to see by inch from the steaming water below.

"It was awful to think that I became a little hysterical. It's funny what tricks the mind plays.

"'This is dying with a vengeance,' I thought. 'I'm being boiled to death.' Then I began to think of my family.

"It was a growing horror. Steam had begun to percolate through the silk, and I felt it on my face and hands. The ring clouds that rose from the surface of the vat blinded me. I felt as if I were dying. By and by, however, some one answered my shouts. The door opened, and the man saw a rushing across the room.

"'Get a pole!' shouted one.

"I knew that would be fatal; the slightest jam with a pole would rot and take the steaming away.

"'Get a rope!' I said. 'don't touch me or it will be all over! One of you turn the steam off and get a rope.' I was afraid to go down the rubber. The pipe that brought the steam to the vat was rotten. It was old. Do it quick!'

"I could hear a strong, clang of the steam being cut off from the vat. I was afraid that the rope would break in the vat that breathed round the edges, and I knew that the water was boiling. The heat no hour to empty No. 4. Its contents would be ruined. I felt Mr. Mill. Mill Jane Sims. Then they got a rope and sat on the edge of the vat and began to rap me with great staring eyes.

"As the vat was on the tilt end I was now on one side, now on the other. Each a length of rope. Both the men grunted and sat up very straight. Suddenly one of them fell back.

"'What's the matter?' I cried.

"'I felt the rope and it's cut.'

"I felt the rope and it's cut. Very well; I'll be there bright and early. Miss Rowe—Be there early anyway. I won't ask the other Gilbo—Bottom Trousers.

Very Likely.

It's a sad thing to witness goodby actress parting from her husband, but we suppose the gallantan gets used to it.—Florida Time-Union.

My hopes are not always realized, yet I always hope.—Ovid.

PUBLIC SALE

OF 85 HEAD OF STOCK

ON TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1918, the undersigned will sell at public sale on the Edward Miller farm, one mile north of Fairfield, Adams County, and only one half mile from Vicinity Mills station on the W. M. R. R. the following:

10 HEAD OF HORSES

No. 1 bay mare, 7 years old, good barnbear leader and saddle mare, in foal, weight 1500 pounds; No. 2,

ADAMS COUNTY NEWS

N. W. Corner Centre Square, Gettysburg.

Times and News Publishing Company
W. Latimer Hafer,
Sec'y and Treas.
Philip B. Bikle,
President and Editor.

Subscription $1 per year, if paid in advance.

The date to which your subscription is paid, is on the pink address label on your paper.

If the date is not changed within two weeks after you send money, please let us know.

The Adams County News will be pleased to receive news letters, if they are signed by the party who sends them. We have both telephones and ask that our friends take advantage of them whenever possible.

Entered as second-class matter December 19, 1908, at the post office at Gettysburg, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

TO OUR READERS

The Adams County News takes absolutely no part in politics, being neutral in all such matters. Anything that appears in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is furnished us by the American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan.

Our advertising columns are open to all candidates and all parties.

CHURCH NOTICES

REFORMED

Sunday School, 9:15 a. m.; church service, 10:30 a. m., subject "The Seal". The Y. P. S. C. E. of Arendtsville and Philip will meet at 6 p. m. Church service, 7 p. m., subject, "What is Sufficient".

FAIRFIELD LUTHERAN

Evangelical services by Rev. W. K. Fisek, commencing Sunday evening February 7th and continuing for one week, every evening at 7 o'clock. Come and hear him. Prayer meeting Friday evening, February 5th. Christian Endeavor, Sunday evening, at 6 o'clock. Topic, "Christian Endeavor and that Dinner." Special meeting. A special collection will be taken to help pay for hymn books. Leader, Miss Lorraine Musselman. Come and bring your friends.

FLOHR'S CHURCH

Missionary meeting Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

BENDER'S REFORMED

Church service at 10 a. m. Catechise class at 11:30 a. m.

ARENDTSVILLE REFORMED

Sunday School at 1 p. m. Church service at 2 p. m. Sermon on "The Dacia, or what should we Carry?"

BIGLERVILLE REFORMED

The pastor will meet the catechumens on Saturday morning at 10.

PRESBYTERIAN

Sunday School at 9:30, and morning worship at 10:30. Corporal Skelly Post G. A. R. will attend in a body, the Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps have been invited to be present. Special pews will be reserved for them. The subject will be "Christian Unity." The Endeavor societies will not meet at the usual hours, but will unite and take charge of the meeting in the church at 7 p. m. Mr. R. K. Major will conduct the meeting. There will be a recitation, vocal and violin solos, a duet, a male quartette, and music by the orchestra, and by Mr. Pee of the Seminary and by the pastor. The general subject is this meeting is "Preparing for the Future."

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Stratton Street: Sunday School, 9:30; preaching, 10:30 and 7:00. Munnasburg: preaching, 2:00.

REFUSED DEMAND

Strike Closes Mill Pressed with War Orders.

The woolen mill at Chambersburg owned by John C. Melville was compelled to close down Tuesday because the weavers went on a strike. The man demanded an increase from six cents and seven a yard to eight cents and the owner refused. The 36 weavers walked out.

The mill has been running all winter on orders for uniform cloth for European armies and is just finishing one for France, with a big one for Russia waiting for delivery.

Mr. Melville said that he would not grant the increase but would sell his big store of wool in a few days and make more money on the advanced price than he would in the mill. However, he agreed to take the men back at the old rate.

Where He Drew the Line.

During the trial of some infamous persons Charles Lamb remarked gravely that he "should like to know those -to-ask them to dinner." "You would not sit with them?" asked Talfourd, solemnly. "You, I would sit with anything but a box or a tailor."

Strict.

The man with the straggly beard was arranging a purchase with the salesman in a housefurnishing shop. "And will you have a hair mattress or one of sea grass?" asked the latter. The man "Give me sea grass," replied the other. "I am a vegetarian."

Letters of Interesting News From Adams County Towns

Personals and Items of News Interest from Various Towns in the County. What the People in the Different Sections are Doing. Entertaining Visitors. Services in the County Churches

YORK SPRINGS

York Springs—Rev. L. H. Gardner, has the laugh on Father Time and does a great many things that men a quarter of a century younger do not attempt. On Saturday, Dec. 30th, he was out skating on Meadow Hill Lake and enjoyed himself immensely cutting circles and figures along with the crowd of young and middle aged skaters. Whether it be pounding, working or at sport Mr. Gardner can always acquit himself well and returns to allow his 83 years to interfere with his work or play.

The first annual banquet of the Motoosa Tribe of Red Men of this place was held in the Dank Hall on Friday evening and was a success in every way. The banquet was attended by the fifty two members and nearly that number guests.

Calvin Davis, of near town, had a narrow escape from death at Biglerville on Friday when he was struck with an attack of acute indigestion. In company with Mr. Harry Bream and Davis, he had just entered the dining room of Hotel Biglerville and he was at the table when he dropped over unconscious. Dr. James Stover was immediately called to the scene and he was called in and found Mr. Davis in a very serious condition. After treatment brought him around and in a few hours was able to be removed to his home. He is now reported as having recovered from his sudden illness.

Mrs. W. Hershey, of Pittsburgh, made a flying visit to his parents here on Sunday.

Miss Martha Lott, of near Gettysburg, is the guest of J. Harvey Neely for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lerew, of Harrisburg, were the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lerew and family.

J. L. Lerew and brother, Harry Lerew, of Philadelphia, made a flying visit to his parents here on Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Hoover returned home from New York City on Sunday evening bringing with him a handsome six passenger Studebaker automobile, complete with all of the latest improvements.

In the thirteen years that he was rural letter carrier on Route 4 from York Springs, Postman C. B. Bankert has covered a distance of over 100,000 miles or a distance equal to girdling the earth four times.

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—Misses Lela Fohl and Irene Reary spent the week-end with friends in Hanover.

Miss Ethel Weyman attended the funeral of their cousin, Miss Dick, in Hanover on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grier and daughter, Latilia, have returned to their home in Scranton after spending some time in Wilkes-Barre, Lemoyne and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roth moved from town last week to the home of Mrs. Roth's father, Mr. Christian Bream. Mrs. Cyrus Grier has had a wall built around the lot on which the late G. Lower, of Table Rock, did the work.

Quite a little excitement prevails in town over the petty stealing which has been going on in the near neighborhood for the past week.

Mrs. Harry Bream, of Hanover, the family of Dr. E. D. Weigle at Camp Hill.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Eisenhart spent some time last week with the family of Charles Yohe, of Bendersville.

BASKET BALL

Lehigh and Gettysburg to Meet on Saturday.

To-morrow night the best attraction in years is in store for lovers of basket ball. At that time the Lehigh University quintet, recognized as one of the leading five of the country, will meet the local colors at the Pennsylvania College Gym. Lehigh won an early season game from Gettysburg at Bethlehem by a decisive score and is determined to even up the series. There will be keen rivalry manifested between the halves. Game called at 8 p. m. Admission 25 cents—advertisement.

GUERNSEY

Guernsey—An interesting entertainment was held at Sunnyside school house on Friday evening. The program consisted of recitations and dialogues by the pupils. Very few teachers were present to take part in the discussions. A full house, as usual when anything is scheduled for Sunnyside.

C. Arthur Grier, wife and daughter, arrived home last night from a two weeks' visit to Lansford, New York, and Passaic, N. J.

The fortieth anniversary of the wedding of Amos W. Grier and wife at Flora Dale was celebrated on Thursday evening by about fifty of their friends assembling to congratulate them and enjoy an evening of merriment and well wishes. Many gifts were received with appropriate verses. After partaking of the good things, and the good cheer, all voted that the pleasure of the evening could only be excelled by a similar occasion on the fiftieth anniversary.

Mrs. Ellen Grier, of Canada, has again returned to that place.

Roy Diehl, who has had the grippe, is now able to be about again.

Mrs. P. C. Eppleman, who spent a few days with Mrs. Grier returned to her home near Goernsey.

Mrs. Jesse Grier will exchange places in the Spring.

MUMMASBURG

Mummasburg—Mr. Curtis Hall made a business trip to Waynesboro one day last week.

C. C. Mackley has his house and barn finished and has moved into the same. Mr. Ed. Mackley moved to Gettysburg.

Wilson Eyler, of Virginia Mills, visited J. C. Mackley one day last week.

Dennis Roth, of Dayton, Ohio, is spending some time with his parents, at the Mrs. Ann Roth home.

Leslie Deardorff, of Hagerstown, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Deardorff.

Luther Taylor has returned home after spending some time in Ohio.

William Kint has improved his property with a new summer kitchen. George Trimmer built a new chicken house.

Reuben Roth, who has been on the sick list, is improving.

John Tate is able to be out again.

WHITE HALL

White Hall—Maurice Parr spent several days with E. C. Fitz, of Mount Alto.

Newton Sentz returned home on Friday after a visit to Mount Alto in the course of time.

Mrs. Jacob Shelly and Howard and Newton Sentz spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Wherley.

Mrs. Samuel Shelly, Bernice Fouls spent several days last week with the former's parents, Jacob Shelly, in Hanover.

Mrs. William Wherley and wife spent Monday evening with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sentz.

Sunday school at St. Luke's this Sunday morning at 9 a. m. There will be no preaching services on account of the minister taking his vacation.

Misses Isabel Sentz and Hazel Dunckle sang at the funeral meeting held in Hunterstown on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Deardorff, who was hurt in a recent fall from the porch, is now seriously ill at her home with double pneumonia.

Mrs. Howard Peters and Mrs. William Spangler, of Hanover, were spending a few days with relatives in this place, having been invited by their respective husbands.

Dr. J. H. Hildebrand has been confined to the house for the last week with an attack of La Grippe.

Brough Bunkey was a recent visitor to the home of C. E. Sentz, Hanover.

Mrs. H. C. Sanders is spending today with relatives and friends in York.

S. G. Bigham and daughter, Jane, are spending a few days with relatives in Baltimore.

Protect the Swallows.

The swallows of Europe are about the only birds which are holding their own in numbers. The people love them and protect them as their annoyances protected them law's into and probably through the days of savagery, and there is no doubt about that the swallow shared the boons of the early dweller.

McSHERRYSTOWN

McSherrystown—Mrs. Emma Dunn, who has been seriously ill from pneumonia for the past few weeks, is slightly improved.

Mrs. Ed Rowe, who sprained his ankle, several weeks ago, is about on crutches, although still unable to attend to his duties.

F. X. Klunk has been confined to his home by a severe cold for several days.

Mrs. F. X. Klunk, who has been confined to her bed for the past three days, is greatly improved.

F. X. Weaver, who sustained a fracture of several ribs and other injuries when he was thrown from a ladder in the Union Opera House, last week, is improving.

Georges B. Bliss, of Midway, is clerking at the C. D. Smith store this week, during the illness of the regular clerk, F. X. Klunk. Mr. Rahn was clerk at this store and many years, resigning about a year ago.

BONNEAUVILLE

Bonneauville—Miss Lydia Berger and Samuel Smith, who are reported ill, are improving, at this writing.

Mrs. R. H. Lindenau and son, Francis, spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lidie, near Hilltop.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenius Smith spent Sunday afternoon at the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver, of Cedar Ridge.

Misses Irene and Mary Bidde, of Round Top, spent several days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mellhorn.

E. L. Colden transacted business in Gettysburg, Monday.

Albert Chrismer was a Littlestown visitor, Wednesday.

John Orndorff spent several days in Philadelphia.

Cleveland Hartlaub, of Gettysburg, transacted business in Littlestown, Monday afternoon.

J. F. Miller, wife and daughter, Miss Pearl, were Gettysburg visitors Saturday.

Miss Mary Spalding, of Littlestown, spent Wednesday with Miss Emma Kuhn.

Mrs. Jacob Wolford and daughter, Emma, were New Oxford visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snoeringer have returned home after spending several days at Harrisburg and Hanover.

Mrs. Homer Claggett, of Harrisburg, is spending some time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Chrismer.

Miss Madeline McCadden, of New Oxford, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of E. A. Mellhorn and Harry Wagenas and wife.

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—Last Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. Dill, of South Main street, entertained a number of friends the occasion of the tenth anniversary of their marriage. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Longsdorf, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Longsdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Bigham, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rice, who come with gifts of tin.

Misses Isabel Sentz and Hazel Dunckle sang at the funeral meeting held in Hunterstown on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Deardorff, who was hurt in a recent fall from the porch, is now seriously ill at her home with double pneumonia.

Mrs. Howard Peters and Mrs. William Spangler, of Hanover, were spending a few days with relatives in this place, having been invited by their respective husbands.

Dr. J. H. Hildebrand has been confined to the house for the last week with an attack of La Grippe.

Brough Bunkey was a recent visitor to the home of C. E. Sentz, Hanover.

Mrs. H. C. Sanders is spending today with relatives and friends in York.

S. G. Bigham and daughter, Jane, are spending a few days with relatives in Baltimore.

BENDERSVILLE

Bendersville—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cline, a daughter, January 28.

Mrs. Grenville Bream, of Gettysburg, visited friends in this place on Monday.

Miss Mary Benner is spending the week with friends in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Ida Sheely, of Gettysburg, is a recent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sowers.

Miss Mary Johnson, of Boiling Springs, visited at the home of William Becker this week.

Mr. Swaggert, of Main street, is on the sick list.

Samuel Shepard, who will move to Heidlersburg this spring where he will conduct a general store, has purchased an Overland motor truck for delivering purposes.

THERE EVERY DAY

County Pupils Do not Miss a Single Session.

Those perfect in attendance the past month, the Grading Schools, Cumberland township, were John Eckenrode, Paul Eckenrode, Willis Bowers, Rud Swartz, James Mumper, Frank Mumper, Ethel Mumper. Myrtle Sheely, teacher.

Those present every day of the fifth month in Cumberland township were Burnell Deardorff, Bernadette Deardorff, Kathryn Lawver, Ruth Lawver, Wilbur Stonesifer, Mary Strasbaugh, Lola Mackley, Hazel Mackley, Ethel Lawver, Ruth Clare Hare, Ellis Kint, Paul Kint, Claire Deardorff, Mina Deardorff, Harry Mackley, Donald Mackley, Chester Hare, Raymond Hare and LeRoy Williams. Ella Hare, teacher.

The following were present every day at Fair View School, 10 months: Grading School, Highland township: Edna Jacobs, Irene Bream, Lillian Weikert, Ruth Weikert, Ethel Bream, Kathryn Weikert, Helen Slagle, Ethel Slagle, Ruth Slagle, Gertrude Kermit Heretter, Wilmore Bream, Robert Bream, Fred Currens and Harry Low. Miss Ella Hare, teacher.

The following were present every day at Fair View School, No. 2, after spending the month: Ira Cooper, Myrtle Bentz, Gobel Patterson, Pauline Patterson, Dennis Hartlaub, Edgar Trimmer, Ralph Hartlaub, Vernon Bentz, Thos Hartlaub, Harry Hartlaub and Roy Hartlaub. Lloyd Palmer, teacher.

The following were perfect in attendance during the month at McCleary's school house, Alice H. Sheads, Grading School, Cumberland: Arlino Rohrbaugh, Esther Rohrbaugh, Dorothy Fair, Helen Wolf, Ethel Bynum, Ella Bynum, Mary Rohrbaugh, Donald Fair, Howard Small.

$2300 FIRE

Fireboys Get Barn of Chambers George along Mountain.

BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville—Last Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. Dill, of South Main street, entertained a number of friends the occasion of the tenth anniversary of their marriage. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Longsdorf, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Longsdorf, Mr. and Mrs. Bigham, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rice, who come with gifts of tin.

Misses Isabel Sentz and Hazel Dunckle sang at the funeral meeting held in Hunterstown on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Deardorff, who was hurt in a recent fall from the porch, is now seriously ill at her home with double pneumonia.

Mrs. Howard Peters and Mrs. William Spangler, of Hanover, were spending a few days with relatives in this place, having been invited by their respective husbands.

Dr. J. H. Hildebrand has been confined to the house for the last week with an attack of La Grippe.

Brough Bunkey was a recent visitor to the home of C. E. Sentz, Hanover.

Mrs. H. C. Sanders is spending today with relatives and friends in York.

S. G. Bigham and daughter, Jane, are spending a few days with relatives in Baltimore.

HOW THE COUNTY MONEY IS SPENT

Auditors Finish their Examination and County Treasurer's Accounts. Interesting Figures in Expenses. Assets and Liabilities.

In the annual report of George E. Spangler, treasurer of Adams County, the audit of which has just been completed, many interesting figures are presented showing the manner in which the county's money was spent during the past year.

The alms house cost the large sum of $11,200, interest and interest came in for $1678.51 while $1860 was paid for the interest on county bonds. The burial of soldiers cost $1300 and tombstones for soldiers graves $1,000. R. R. grants in the county $62.00 was appropriated for Memorial Day celebrations. It cost the county commissioners, their clerk and solicitor $2765.07 to attend the various meetings held by the auditors' report.

Office supplies, purchased principally at the People's Drug Store and Hiber's Drug Store added to the expenses $1,468.47; while the printing of office supplies cost $426.52 more. The Star and Sentinel received $249.10 and the Gettysburg Compiler $132.76 of this sum.

A total of $1175.60 was paid as bounties on noxious animals, and it is stated that $1,485.16 has been returned on the bounty claims. For sheep killed by dogs $1,000 was allowed. County officers cost in salaries this year $9267.00. A new item appears in the salary of the Jury Commissioner, the sealer of weights and measures, and the janitor of the court house. His salary is $1000 while his expenses for the year are given at $157.62. This does not include his apparatus which cost $200.

Commonwealth costs reached a total of $4045.02. Of this amount the following appropriations were made in dismissed cases, R. S. Harzish, $45.50; E. M. Stuckey, $17.26; V. H. Lilly, $17.26; J. C. Bream, $17.26; T. L. Hill, $39.62; S. B. Gochnaur, $8.17; Harry Low, $39.62.

Court expenses amounted to $4671.; of which $2400 went for jury pay, and $6782.02 for jurors' mileage. For printing the county accounts last year the Star and Sentinel received $1,000.00 and the Compiler $425.50. Maintaining the county's property cost $1056.17.

The election and registration last year cost $7918.67 while assessments for the county amounted to $1,000. Interest $1879.54. Jail and penitentiary expenses during the year reached $7,000 of which $2,000 was paid by Sheriff Thompson and $5000.30 was paid by the Eastern Penitentiary; $2297.59 to the Huntingdon Reformatory and $1,000 to the Sheriff for taking prisoners to the penitentiary. Adams County's bill at Hale House amounted to $1273.76.

The Willoughby Run bridge cost $17742.60 and the Aid road in Biglerville $3101.47. The county treasurer received as fees $6441.44.

The county's assets are given as follows: balance on hand, $6980.11; outstanding taxes, $6,000; personal property sents, $400.00; outstanding tax duplicate, $6221.; due from the State (Bounties), $1857.05; due from the State (Primary elections 1911 and 1912), $1703.33; due from the State (Digitelvia A. H., and F., $1000.00), $522.00. Total assets, $31901.23.

The liabilities are, county bonds, $30,000; interest on bonds, $35-500, a total of $65,500. The liabilities over the assets are $33,598.77.

LIVELY SALE

Two Runaways at Farm while Sale is Going on.

A sale was held at the farm of Mrs. Catherine Bergdoll, near Bendersville, on Tuesday afternoon, when a number of articles were disposed of to the highest bidder. Two runaways occurred during the sale, but no damage was done.

The first runaway was caused by a horse which was hitched to a buggy, and which became frightened at a passing automobile and started to run. The horse took the road leading to Bendersville, and ran a short distance, when it was caught by Harry Martin, who was standing in the road. The horse was not injured.

The second runaway took place when Charles Hauser's horse jumped over a wire fence and was also freed from the buggy. The horse was caught after running across the fields and little damage was done.

MORE TESTIMONY IN BEALES CASE

Various Witnesses Called at Morning Hearing. Matter of Payment of Voters' Taxes is Taken up. Attorneys in Many Tilts.

Quibbling of counsel and notaries were again the high-lights at the continuance of the Bendersheim contest held in the Gettysburg Court House on Tuesday.

In the testimony of two witnesses, Joseph Galbraith and Otis Baughman, the Third Ward was in the limelight as general tax methods and having it-quar in the case. Both witnesses testified to the circumstances surrounding the illegal acts countenanced by the election board during the course of the day according to the witnesses.

The second witness also testified that the judge and the inspector were under the influence of liquor while on duty; that men were not paid after their taxes for more than two years were permitted to vote without challenge, and that citizens who had no connection with the election board were permitted to assist in making out the returns after the close of the polls and after the departure of the judge and the inspector.

The first witness to be called was Joseph Galbraith, of the Republican county committeeman. He testified to having spent the greater part of the day at the polls and stated that he knew that the judge permitted every one who applied, to vote. He was aware of some worker to mark his own ballot, until Mr. Beales and others then made a ruling to allow further help in marking the ballots.

He said he had been at the voter's home's home the night before election and found assessment to the effect that Scott's records, between forty and fifty Republicans and about seven or twice and then for only ten minutes. Democrats and that he was out of the city for a period of more than two years, the basement with George Slonaker, but that the Democrats were not permitted to cast their ballots when they appeared, despite his objection.

During the afternoon, he said, a big crowd came in and that they brought into the room and, upon cross-examination, admitted that he could not tell for whom any of them voted. He said that he was present at the polls when Democrats were paid for their votes and aids in the payment.

When "Senator" Scott appeared to vote, witness said, he was challenged on non-residence and that the judge was permitted to vote there despite the fact that he lived in Fifth Ward and that he refused to make affidavit of residence.

Otis Baughman's testimony was to the main a corroboration of that given by Galbraith, reading the rolls of the State (Bounties), $1857.05; due from the State (Primary elections 1911 and 1912), $1703.33; due from the State (Digitelvia A. H., and F., $1000.00), $522.00. Total assets, $31901.23.

The liabilities are, county bonds, $30,000; interest on bonds, $35-500, a total of $65,500. The liabilities over the assets are $33,598.77.

Quibbling of counsel and notaries were again the high-lights at the continuance of the Bendersheim contest held in the Gettysburg Court House on Tuesday.

In the testimony of two witnesses, Joseph Galbraith and Otis Baughman, the Third Ward was in the limelight as general tax methods and having it-quar in the case. Both witnesses testified to the circumstances surrounding the illegal acts countenanced by the election board during the course of the day according to the witnesses.

The second witness also testified that the judge and the inspector were under the influence of liquor while on duty; that men were not paid after their taxes for more than two years were permitted to vote without challenge, and that citizens who had no connection with the election board were permitted to assist in making out the returns after the close of the polls and after the departure of the judge and the inspector.

The first witness to be called was Joseph Galbraith, of the Republican county committeeman. He testified to having spent the greater part of the day at the polls and stated that he knew that the judge permitted every one who applied, to vote. He was aware of some worker to mark his own ballot, until Mr. Beales and others then made a ruling to allow further help in marking the ballots.

He said he had been at the voter's home's home the night before election and found assessment to the effect that Scott's records, between forty and fifty Republicans and about seven or twice and then for only ten minutes. Democrats and that he was out of the city for a period of more than two years, the basement with George Slonaker, but that the Democrats were not permitted to cast their ballots when they appeared, despite his objection.

During the afternoon, he said, a big crowd came in and that they brought into the room and, upon cross-examination, admitted that he could not tell for whom any of them voted. He said that he was present at the polls when Democrats were paid for their votes and aids in the payment.

When "Senator" Scott appeared to vote, witness said, he was challenged on non-residence and that the judge was permitted to vote there despite the fact that he lived in Fifth Ward and that he refused to make affidavit of residence.

Otis Baughman's testimony was to the main a corroboration of that given by Galbraith, reading the rolls of the day and probably the greater part of the time during his examination was occupied by Attorney Beales and the counsel, protestation of the notaries being about equally divided as to the admissible and on argument as to whether the stenographer had the correct note of the proceedings.

Baughman differed from Galbraith's statement in that he testified that Scott insisted to the effect that Scott I voted for Beales there must have refused to make affidavit of residence, been plenty of other Democrats who he said Scott did make an affidavit to did the same thing. Many of the the effect that he resided in the Third Ward.

At this point a discussion occurred as to where the witness should sit, much to the amusement of the spectators. After moving back and forth an order from Beales for liquor. He a number of times as they could not said he did not know who bought the hear the witness, he was allowed to liquor. He was interrogated sharply sit at the end of the table where he by Attorney Beales, but beat up at could be heard.

Galbraith then took the stand. He testified to having received orders to the approximate number of 126 from workers. Only 15 were not paid for voters. In this list he stated that Adjutant Wilson, Harry Bushey, Williams, W. S. Schreder, Dr. Markley, John Bender and C. E. Tate each promised to pay $2 for votes. Many orders, while among the Democratic orders were those of Frank Bair, Albert and Otis Baughman. For the Republican orders the money was paid with several exceptions, by Robert C. Miller and J. Louis Sowers.

Otis Baughman testified that Mr. Bumbaugh said that it was possible for the list of voters who had not paid their taxes in the Third Ward on Tuesday by Baughman and Galbraith, that he would be the nominee for county treasurer or to have paid taxes on his property and that he was sure he would entitle them to vote. He also replied that he thought the election would be close.

Frank Penn, one of the inspectors in the Third Ward, said he was the one where he could see everything that occurred election day and he saw no one receive money. He said that he was entirely regular, that votes were challenged and that the election was generally very orderly, more so than usual.

Robert C. Miller, Republican county chairman, took the chair. His testimony appeared to be of little importance and was chiefly with the Beales contingent during these performances. Considerable time was taken up in the cross-examination of the last witness of the day, Harry Low, Democratic Register of Wills. He was questioned at length by Attorney Beales as to his relations with the clerk of the orphans' court and with the clerk of the quarter sessions court. He was also questioned as to his relations with the register of wills and with the county commissioners. Low was the last witness of the day.

The last two witnesses of the afternoon session were Harry Martin and a wait of several hours in the crowded Court Room. George Slonaker and Harry Martin were called to the stand.

Slonaker demanded his witness fee before he testified and stated that he was quickly produced. He said the only beer about the Third Ward polling place was that which he got for himself and that he had not bought any for the voters. He was asked if he had not bought a barrel of beer for the voters and replied that he thought the election officers, that the election would be close. He also said that he had not been employed to gather material in this case but that he was interested in it.

Baughman testified that majority inspector Slonaker stated in the polling place he had but $20 on Beales, and that his wife would make a trip to Philadelphia on the proceeds. Galbraith was recalled to substantiate the statements made by Baughman in the morning was adjourned.

The afternoon session was present at the opening Tuesday morning but the Court House filled later with nothing to do, adjourned before adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon

At the resumption of the testimony in the afternoon, Attorney Ruby called Harry Martin to the stand and assisted with the counting of the ballots at the solicitation of the judge of elections because, as the judge said, "his eyes watered" and he was unable to count the votes. Martin was sworn.

Almost every one in the room at this time was busy with the counting of the count except the judge. William Bream, one of the election officers and the election board, called off the ballots while the clerks marked down the votes.

In the cross-examination Mr. Bair said that he was present in making out the returns after the close of the polls and that the election was entirely honest to the best of his belief.

The first witness to be called was Joseph Galbraith, of the Republican county committeeman. He testified to having spent the greater part of the day at the polls and stated that he knew that the judge permitted every one who applied, to vote. He was aware of some worker to mark his own ballot, until Mr. Beales and others then made a ruling to allow further help in marking the ballots.

He said he had been at the voter's home's home the night before election and found assessment to the effect that Scott's records, between forty and fifty Republicans and about seven or twice and then for only ten minutes. Democrats and that he was out of the city for a period of more than two years, the basement with George Slonaker, but that the Democrats were not permitted to cast their ballots when they appeared, despite his objection.

During the afternoon, he said, a big crowd came in and that they brought into the room and, upon cross-examination, admitted that he could not tell for whom any of them voted. He said that he was present at the polls when Democrats were paid for their votes and aids in the payment.

When "Senator" Scott appeared to vote, witness said, he was challenged on non-residence and that the judge was permitted to vote there despite the fact that he lived in Fifth Ward and that he refused to make affidavit of residence.

Otis Baughman's testimony was to the main a corroboration of that given by Galbraith, reading the rolls of the day and probably the greater part of the time during his examination was occupied by Attorney Beales and the counsel, protestation of the notaries being about equally divided as to the admissible and on argument as to whether the stenographer had the correct note of the proceedings.

Baughman differed from Galbraith's statement in that he testified that Scott I voted for Beales there must have been plenty of other Democrats who did the same thing. Many of the spectators. "He got about 92 or 93 votes," replied Mr. Ruby, "I think I should have had the whole thing." (Laughter.)

Leander Martin denied that he took an order from Beales for liquor. He said he did not go to Philadelphia but rather dry town on election day and when Sunday or what he had taken the purchase of goods for the day, before and securing as much as he Republican committee, and that he had his party militations, he said "I am a Republican and I am certain voter."

"You take a drink when you are labor, or tired, don't you", asked Mr. Ruby and he replied that he did not.

"You drink most of the time, don't you?" again asked the attorney "Oh, C-dp Jr., Jacob Graves, James Cor- I am respectable for days at a time or, James Crouse, William Dagrofi, Jim the rest of the attorney", Martin Joseph Dewan, John Fleshman, Ralph Fenton, Richard Gibbs, Jesse Mc-Fadden, John A. Mathews, H. A. Myers, Clarence Monroe, George Thumpson, Andrew Thomas, Marshall Thomas, Valentine, G. W. Williams, David Wilson, James Woodward.

In reply to Attorney Swope's question he said he had not been employed to gather material in this case but that he was interested in it.

Baughman testified that majority inspector Slonaker stated in the polling place he had but $20 on Beales, and that his wife would make a trip to Philadelphia on the proceeds. Galbraith was recalled to substantiate the statements made by Baughman in the morning was adjourned.

The afternoon session was present at the opening Tuesday morning but the Court House filled later with nothing to do, adjourned before adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon

At the resumption of the testimony in the afternoon, Attorney Ruby called Harry Martin to the stand and assisted with the counting of the ballots at the solicitation of the judge of elections because, as the judge said, "his eyes watered" and he was unable to count the votes. Martin was sworn.

Almost every one in the room at this time was busy with the counting of the count except the judge. William Bream, one of the election officers and the election board, called off the ballots while the clerks marked down the votes.

In the cross-examination Mr. Bair said that he was present in making out the returns after the close of the polls and that the election was entirely honest to the best of his belief.

William D. Gilbert testified that he was a Democratic voter and that he knew nothing about the election of 1912 and that he had not been employed by the Democratic committee to do so.

J. J. Martin, Democratic judge of elections in the Third Ward, said that he was out of the polling place once or twice and then for only ten minutes. He said that he was out of the city for a period of more than two years, the basement with George Slonaker, but that the Democrats were not permitted to cast their ballots when they appeared, despite his objection.

During the afternoon, he said, a big crowd came in and that they brought into the room and, upon cross-examination, admitted that he could not tell for whom any of them voted. He said that he was present at the polls when Democrats were paid for their votes and aids in the payment.

When "Senator" Scott appeared to vote, witness said, he was challenged on non-residence and that the judge was permitted to vote there despite the fact that he lived in Fifth Ward and that he refused to make affidavit of residence.

Otis Baughman's testimony was to the main a corroboration of that given by Galbraith, reading the rolls of the day and probably the greater part of the time during his examination was occupied by Attorney Beales and the counsel, protestation of the notaries being about equally divided as to the admissible and on argument as to whether the stenographer had the correct note of the proceedings.

Baughman differed from Galbraith's statement in that he testified that Scott I voted for Beales there must have been plenty of other Democrats who did the same thing. Many of the spectators. "He got about 92 or 93 votes," replied Mr. Ruby, "I think I should have had the whole thing." (Laughter.)

Leander Martin denied that he took an order from Beales for liquor. He said he did not go to Philadelphia but rather dry town on election day and when Sunday or what he had taken the purchase of goods for the day, before and securing as much as he Republican committee, and that he had his party militations, he said "I am a Republican and I am certain voter."

"You take a drink when you are labor, or tired, don't you", asked Mr. Ruby and he replied that he did not.

"You drink most of the time, don't you?" again asked the attorney "Oh, C-dp Jr., Jacob Graves, James Cor- I am respectable for days at a time or, James Crouse, William Dagrofi, Jim the rest of the attorney", Martin Joseph Dewan, John Fleshman, Ralph Fenton, Richard Gibbs, Jesse Mc-Fadden, John A. Mathews, H. A. Myers, Clarence Monroe, George Thumpson, Andrew Thomas, Marshall Thomas, Valentine, G. W. Williams, David Wilson, James Woodward.

In reply to Attorney Swope's questions he said he had not been employed to gather material in this case but that he was interested in it.

Baughman testified that majority inspector Slonaker stated in the polling place he had but $20 on Beales, and that his wife would make a trip to Philadelphia on the proceeds. Galbraith was recalled to substantiate the statements made by Baughman in the morning was adjourned.

The afternoon session was present at the opening Tuesday morning but the Court House filled later with nothing to do, adjourned before adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon

At the resumption of the testimony in the afternoon, Attorney Ruby called Harry Martin to the stand and assisted with the counting of the ballots at the solicitation of the judge of elections because, as the judge said, "his eyes watered" and he was unable to count the votes. Martin was sworn.

Almost every one in the room at this time was busy with the counting of the count except the judge. William Bream, one of the election officers and the election board, called off the ballots while the clerks marked down the votes.

In the cross-examination Mr. Bair said that he was present in making out the returns after the close of the polls and that the election was entirely honest to the best of his belief.

The first witness to be called was Joseph Galbraith, of the Republican county committeeman. He testified to having spent the greater part of the day at the polls and stated that he knew that the judge permitted every one who applied, to vote. He was aware of some worker to mark his own ballot, until Mr. Beales and others then made a ruling to allow further help in marking the ballots.

He said he had been at the voter's home's home the night before election and found assessment to the effect that Scott's records, between forty and fifty Republicans and about seven or twice and then for only ten minutes. Democrats and that he was out of the city for a period of more than two years, the basement with George Slonaker, but that the Democrats were not permitted to cast their ballots when they appeared, despite his objection.

During the afternoon, he said, a big crowd came in and that they brought into the room and, upon cross-examination, admitted that he could not tell for whom any of them voted. He said that he was present at the polls when Democrats were paid for their votes and aids in the payment.

When "Senator" Scott appeared to vote, witness said, he was challenged on non-residence and that the judge was permitted to vote there despite the fact that he lived in Fifth Ward and that he refused to make affidavit of residence.

Otis Baughman's testimony was to the main a corroboration of that given by Galbraith, reading the rolls of the day and probably the greater part of the time during his examination was occupied by Attorney Beales and the counsel, protestation of the notaries being about equally divided as to the admissible and on argument as to whether the stenographer had the correct note of the proceedings.

Baughman differed from Galbraith's statement in that he testified that Scott I voted for Beales there must have been plenty of other Democrats who did the same thing. Many of the spectators. "He got about 92 or 93 votes," replied Mr. Ruby, "I think I should have had the whole thing." (Laughter.)

Leander Martin denied that he took an order from Beales for liquor. He said he did not go to Philadelphia but rather dry town on election day and when Sunday or what he had taken the purchase of goods for the day, before and securing as much as he Republican committee, and that he had his party militations, he said "I am a Republican and I am certain voter."

"You take a drink when you are labor, or tired, don't you", asked Mr. Ruby and he replied that he did not.

"You drink most of the time, don't you?" again asked the attorney "Oh, C-dp Jr., Jacob Graves, James Cor- I am respectable for days at a time or, James Crouse, William Dagrofi, Jim the rest of the attorney", Martin Joseph Dewan, John Fleshman, Ralph Fenton, Richard Gibbs, Jesse Mc-Fadden, John A. Mathews, H. A. Myers, Clarence Monroe, George Thumpson, Andrew Thomas, Marshall Thomas, Valentine, G. W. Williams, David Wilson, James Woodward.

In reply to Attorney Swope's questions he said he had not been employed to gather material in this case but that he was interested in it.

Baughman testified that majority inspector Slonaker stated in the polling place he had but $20 on Beales, and that his wife would make a trip to Philadelphia on the proceeds. Galbraith was recalled to substantiate the statements made by Baughman in the morning was adjourned.

The afternoon session was present at the opening Tuesday morning but the Court House filled later with nothing to do, adjourned before adjournment.

Tuesday Afternoon

At the resumption of the testimony in the afternoon, Attorney Ruby called Harry Martin to the stand and assisted with the counting of the ballots at the solicitation of the judge of elections because, as the judge said, "his eyes watered" and he was unable to count the votes. Martin was sworn.

Almost every one in the room at this time was busy with the counting of the count except the judge. William Bream, one of the election officers and the election board, called off the ballots while the clerks marked down the votes.

In the cross-examination Mr. Bair said that he was present in making out the returns after the close of the polls and that the election was entirely honest to the best of his belief.

The first witness to be called was Joseph Galbraith, of the Republican county committeeman. He testified to having spent the greater

MAGICIAN FOR THE CONVENTION

Adams County School Directors will Have Relief from Weighty Discussions of Prominent Educators. Entertainment at Night.

When the Adams County school directors convene here on February 11 for their two days' session they will not be confronted with a program composed of nothing but lectures. This was determined upon Saturday at a meeting of the board of officers of the Directors' Association which was held in the office of County Superintendent Roth.

The convention is intended to engage as the evening attraction for Thursday, Tuber, the magician, who has gained wide-spread fame by his performances. He is guaranteed to provide an evening of fun and entertainment and, after a day in which weighty subjects will be discussed, it is believed that this will be heartily welcomed by the directors.

The officers were much pleased with Prof. Roth's plans for the coming convention and realized the importance of Commissioner Claxton, Inspector Deputy and the other prominent educators as the speakers for the two days.

The course this year will entail more expense than usual on the officials who are not allowed to lose an outlay of more than $200. To meet the excess, which is due to the employment of Tuber, the magician, a small admission will be charged the general public for the evening entertainment. Directors will be admitted free to all sessions.

FROM SOLDIER

Evidently here at One of the Recent Encampments.

From Sissi, Philippine Islands, comes a letter to the Gettysburg post office addressed to "Mr. Miller, York Street, near School House, Gettysburg Cousin". A photograph accompanies the letter which are from Joseph Forester, I Troop, 8th Cavalry. An effort on the part of the post office people to locate the person for whom both were intended has up to this time, proved unavailing.

NEW CAPS

Express Company Employes Wearing New Headgear.

The American Express Company transfer men in this place have received new caps to be worn by them when on duty here. The caps are said have the name of the company and employe's number inscribed on them.

SUBSTANTIAL BEQUESTS

Ardmore Woman Remembers Gettysburg in Her Will.

By the will of the late Harriet Hoffman, of Ardmore, Mrs. M. Cooper, Donald Cooper and Miss Margaret Cooper, of Gettysburg, each receives $500. Miss Cooper, in addition, gets a quarter interest in the property on St. Paul's Lutheran church, of Ardmore, is given $3000, and the Trustee Orphans' Home, Gettysburg, $500; Rev. H. Richard and Rev. Charles Anderson each $500. After these bequests have been distributed Dr. M. Cooper, who is named as executor, is to receive the residue of the estate.

MUMMERT—BRYER

Mr. Mummert, of Near Littlestown, Weds Hanover Girl.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bryer, of Hanover, Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Mabel Bryer, became the bride of Charles E. Mummert, of near Littlestown. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. W. I. Rodney. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to the guests. The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents.

AUTO ON RAILROAD

Novel Car Runs on the Western Maryland.

The Western Maryland now inspection car which was an automobile mounted into an inspection car, ran from Edgemont to Highfield, some six miles in eight minutes. The only changes made to the automobile was the front axle, which now is of solid steel and the wheels. These carry flanges. The steering wheel has been removed and only the brakes and clutch are used.

ment of the back seat and took up room off of the front door and head of on her hat. When the undertaker went to the area he couldn't find it.—Chicago Tribune.

STORIES OF WAR IN EUROPE THAT ARE FILLED WITH HEART INTEREST

Romance of the Trenches. Belgium Woman Refugee Reunited with Husband on Film.

Mother Thought It Cruel That Boy Should Kill Another. Shielded Disabled Taxicab.

EVERY day there come to this country stories of human interest, the outgrowth of the present war. Some of the latest and best are the following:

Among the tableaux playing their trade on the streets of Paris is a blue Bonnin riddled with bullets, made by drivers by Jules Garnotin. He carefully refrains from painting these disfigurations, and his signature he shows as extract from the Journal Officiel, by which he is mentioned in dispatches for an act of unusual courage.

When General Mowatry determined to summon the reserves for the decisive battle he chose to try to take the Kluck's army at the battle on the Marne, and ordered General Paris, taxicabs, by which he transported 5,000 soldiers, reserves from Versailles to the firing line. Although Garnotin had retired from the army as a soldier owing to a recent illness, his taxicab was among those impressed and conveyed as many as eleven soldiers a trip to the battle ground.

After his taxi trip to this service Garnotin managed to get back to the hospital the wounded French soldiers lying in an open ground between the French and German batteries. In a corner of shell fire and shrapnel bullets he drove his machine to the spot and rescued and carried the wounded to cover it. Returning by a different route, he received the fire of the French riflemen, equally without in jury to himself and his passengers.

One hundred and six wounded and noncommissioned officers have been promoted to commissioned rank in the British army.

Sees Husband on Film.

During a moving picture show in Antwerp a Belgian woman suddenly recognized her husband in a film depicting the flight of the refugees from the war. Some of the latest and best are the following:

Among the tableaux playing their trade on the streets of Paris is a blue Bonnin riddled with bullets, made by drivers by Jules Garnotin. He carefully refrains from painting these disfigurations, and his signature he shows as extract from the Journal Officiel, by which he is mentioned in dispatches for an act of unusual courage.

When General Mowatry determined to summon the reserves for the decisive battle he chose to try to take the Kluck's army at the battle on the Marne, and ordered General Paris, taxicabs, by which he transported 5,000 soldiers, reserves from Versailles to the firing line. Although Garnotin had retired from the army as a soldier owing to a recent illness, his taxicab was among those impressed and conveyed as many as eleven soldiers a trip to the battle ground.

After his taxi trip to this service Garnotin managed to get back to the hospital the wounded French soldiers lying in an open ground between the French and German batteries. In a corner of shell fire and shrapnel bullets he drove his machine to the spot and rescued and carried the wounded to cover it. Returning by a different route, he received the fire of the French riflemen, equally without inj